Health and Medical	Current Situation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The satellite COVID-19 testing site at Landmark College in Putney, VT is fully operational as of 0815 on March 29 with support from the National Guard. This additional location will fill the gap not covered by a hospital or Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC). Three medical surge sites are available for operations. The Vermont Medical Surge Team is working to identify additional sites if needed. Sites are in Barre, Burlington, and St. Albans. Burlington installed a 800 kW Generator for the facility. Drive-up testing is available at the following hospitals: Brattleboro Memorial, Copley, Dartmouth-Hitchcock, North Country, Northwestern, Porter, Springfield, Rutland and UVMCC. Testing is currently being expanded as new test kits are being distributed to hospitals and FQHC across the state to include people with mild to moderate symptoms. Tests will still be prioritized, and a referral from a Primary Care Provider is still needed. SEOC is working with the HOC to develop PPE and medical supply distribution plan. The US Army Corps of Engineers Planning and Response Team has completed assessments for four of the five requested facilities—one was already completed sufficiently. Post-Assessment reports on four Vermont sites, including cost, bed count, and pros/cons from a construction standpoint.
